Please bring your own seating suitable for the grass terraces of this beautiful amphitheatre

Next Tuesday The Players AGM-with-a-difference, cabaret and food, 9th July at 7.30pm at the Town Hall. Everyone is welcome.

The next big event
our open-air production at Knackershole Barn amphitheatre, West Knowle,

'The Importance of Being Earnest'

with picnics on the lawns
25th, 26th and 27th of July.

Put your name down for tickets now, at the Post Office, to avoid disappointment.

Courtesy of Pam and Steve Hall, you'll find us on the road to Oldways End at West Knowle - plenty of parking.

Arrive early and enjoy your picnic. Oscar Wilde's classic comedy gets a new twist in this cross-dressed production featuring some of the Players' best known faces. Banger Milton and Carol Jones play Jack and Algernon, the suitors who both have a pressing need to become "Ernest", while Antony Bartlett and John Thorogood are their bewildered betrothed. Sara Hooley as Canon Chasuble languishes for Simon Bartlett's Miss Prism, the governess who holds the key to the secret of the mysterious hand-bag. Ginny Brown and Cynthia Sharpe are the attentive servants while Director, Charlie Blanning, has kept the intimidating Lady Bracknell for himself.

The Dulverton Players is more than a drama group. With more than 70 members and sell-out audiences of 1,140 for the 3F's, Calendar Girls, and Cinderella, they have also been fundraising for the youth club, cancer relief, the air ambulances, and the town's flower baskets

Young People The Players have been paying special attention to helping local young people build their confidence and presentation skills in three drama workshops during the Easter holidays attended by 44 budding actors

Murder Mystery Supper Party

both the last two were sold out.

Friday 20th September

Dulverton Town Hall

A Murder Mystery at a country house shooting weekend. Was it an accident? Does the lady of the house have a deadly secret? And what was the gamekeeper up to?

The plot has been specially devised by Nick and Sylvia Thwaites, involving dastardly doings in the respectable British countryside. There will be prizes if your detective work can finger the villain for the Players Police.

Whether you fancy acting, helping behind the scenes, or just coming to see one of our sell-out shows, you will receive a warm and friendly welcome.

Do you have a play which you would like to direct in the autumn?
This may be your chance. Contact us.

Cabaret Show

Saturday 17th November Brushford Village Hall

In April The Players turned the full range of their talents to a cause close to the hearts of local people - the cross-border air ambulances of Devon and Somerset. Forty-eight singers, dancers, musicians, actors, directors, technicians and crew delivered 21 musical acts and sketches for 80 diners. You can catch them again at Brushford on 17th November at 7.30pm. A sell out last time, don't be disappointed again.

Costumes for Hire

The Players have the most remarkable wardrobe department recently catalogued and re-organised by Chris Dubery and Liz Stanbury. Need an outfit for a performance or a period event? 01398 323474
